

Indian Council of Philosophical Research

New Delhi

It is for information for all scholars and organizers that the Council strictly enforces quality control in all ICPR sponsored academic activities and events. Seminars, conference, workshops and such programmes should be preceded with written and properly assessed scripts by ICPR. Accordingly, 10% of the grants will be released to the organizers of the events initially through their institution, 80% of the grants will be released only after satisfactory assessment of the ICPR on the full length papers / scripts and comments on each of them. For this, the organizers are required to collect all the papers to be presented in the event and assign the official comments on each of them by scholars different from the writer of the paper, and then send them to ICPR (keeping them in a Book form in a single Word or PDF File Format). On assessment of these papers and comments, 80% of the grants will be released to the Organizer through the Institution. Only assessed scripts should be presented in ICPR sponsored activities in order to ensure judicious and meaningful use of the grant. The remaining 10 % of the grants will be released through the institution after submission of all the bills and vouchers and assessment of them by account section of the Council.